

What are the „I Am-Love Droplets of God“?

Source of divine messages

God, the all-benevolent spirit of love, offers little "spiritual droplets" for these end times of the earth end time from the great sea of his blissful sensations of the heart and wisdom through a religion-free herald to all his people who seek information and enjoyment of the heavenly rules of life and properties of pure beings of light. Each reader has the opportunity to delve into them as they sense the need.

The divine messages, of course, only have a small touch of reality in their meaning compared to the celestial abundance. Celestial beings experience a great abundance in their consciousness from heavenly creation in infinite variations that never ends in their blissful evolutionary life. Heavenly life escapes the limited human imagination and therefore, God, the universal spirit of love, will never be able to describe it more elaborately and in more detail.

However, for people who are well-oriented toward him, the "spiritual droplets" can be very useful for further spiritual development, as they are very meaningful and extensive in depth. They can be very valuable and important for all fallen and burdened beings for orientation on their heavenly way back, so he gladly offers them to inner humanity. Each individual reader will sense for themselves in their own enlightened consciousness whether they are really valuable to a spiritually-oriented person.

Whoever steadily shows God, the inner spirit of love, their heartfelt feelings in the depths of their soul (the core of life) will be able to understand them reasonably well and will be very happy about that. Those who experience joy and fulfillment from within while reading the heavenly love messages can assume that the universal spirit of love will soon greet them in the heavenly worlds after their earthly life, as their spiritually awakened souls no longer have any great burdens.

Each "spiritual love droplet of God" can only be understood from the point of view of heavenly character properties created by celestial beings for their impersonal, blissful, and free evolutionary life, which they joyfully lead in just consubstantiality and cordiality, as the primeval spirit of all life can only offer people a description from the heavenly evolutionary properties (regularities).

Thanks are due to every sincere man and woman of God for their willingness to seek God, the impersonal spirit of love, within themselves. They will only succeed in doing so through a gradual realization of their previous knowledge of warm heavenly properties and life guidelines. The universal spirit of love and the celestial beings wish that for them very much!

This brief message has been brought to you for your spiritual orientation by a heavenly messenger of light according to divine guidance.